Hike In Gas Tax To Add $82,700 In Calloway

(Special to the Ledger & Times)
NEW YORK, Sept. 25. — In the 21 months beginning October 1st, Calloway County car owners will contribute an additional $82,700 to keep the interstate highway construction program rolling on schedule.

That is the estimated amount, based on present car operation figures for the county, that will result from the new one-cent rise in the cost of gasoline.

The average driver will have to dig a little deeper in his pocket—about 15 cents deeper—each time he takes on a tank load of gas.

Hundreds Missing In Japan Storm

TOKYO (UPI) — The most disastrous typhoon in many years lashed Japan for 12 hours over the weekend with winds up to 135 m.p.h., leaving more than 2,600 persons dead or missing in its wake.

Damage to U.S. Air Force installations in this island nation was estimated at more than a million dollars, but the only known American casualty was an airman slightly injured by flying glass.

An official police report from communities on the storm track early today showed 1,559 persons known dead, 1,458 missing and 4,695 injured. Many of the missing were feared dead.

A total of 350,000 homes were wrecked or washed away during the nightmare hours Saturday night and early Sunday when the nation was battered by howling winds, mountainous waves and surging floodwaters. An estimated 970,000 persons were homeless.

The American Red Cross made hundreds of blankets available to disaster headquarters here for emergency relief to storm refugees.

Thirty-eight of Japan's 46 provinces suffered some degree of damage from the typhoon, but the heaviest harm was inflicted in three provinces—Aichi, Mie and Gifu—bordering the Bay.

The total damage is expected to exceed 120 million dollars. Construction Minister Isamu Murakami said the government will ask parliament to approve a supplementary budget to meet the costs of the disaster.

STEALING THE BARN DOOR

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (UPI) — "I've heard everything," Judge Samuel R. Seering said as he sentenced John Dietz, 20, to 15 days in the Niagara County Jail.

Asked why he stole a set of hubcaps locks from an auto supply store, Dietz had replied, "I was afraid someone would steal my hubcaps."

Hoyt Roberts, Hiram Tucker Attend Educational Seminar

Hoyt Roberts and Hiram Tucker, local realtors, attended the Kentucky Real Estate Commission Educational Seminar held at the Kentucky Hotel on Thursday of last week. There they heard such nationally known speakers as Robert W. Semow of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mr. Semow is a noted authority on real estate law and is also the author of several books, among which is "Questions and Answers on Real Estate." This is the text book recommended by the Kentucky State Real Estate Commission for study in preparation for state test. Mr. Semow spoke on the subject of hidden defects in listings and agreements.

Roy Wuzick of St. Louis, Missouri, a noted real estate economist brought a very interesting address on the subject of "What's ahead in Real Estate Mortgage Lending and Construction. Mr. Wenzlick had a large group of charts from which he pointed out the trend of past several years and his opinion would continue to be the best and safest investment a man can make today. He pointed out that homes that were bought at an average cost of $5,500,000 in 1934 after 25 years of use were worth an average of $8,300,000 on today's market.

Thursday meeting was climaxed by an address by E. A. Cleveland, a very noted and much sought after speaker, of Chattanooga, Tennessee. Mr. Cleveland's subject was "Salesmanship and Enthusiasm." Mr. Cleveland kept the large crowd spell bound with his wit and humor for a period of one hour.

The Kentucky Real Estate Association held their annual meeting Friday and Saturday and financing. Taking part in these discussions were O. H. Howard, Federal Housing Administration of Louisville; Regan O'Connor, Veterans Administration of Louisville office; Williams O. Cowger, Mortgage Banking of Louisville; and William M. Laufenberg, Savings and Loan Association of Louisville. According to the belief of these men, mortgage money will be tight for some time and higher interest rates are expected for an indefinite number of years.

James M. Udall, President of the National Association of Real Estate Brokers, said that the mortgage money market is expected to be tight for some time and higher interest rates are expected for an indefinite number of years.

TV Picture Is Taken By Satellite

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Space scientists disclosed today that America's Paddlewheel satellite has taken television pictures of the earth from an altitude of 17,000 miles.

It was the first crude image of the earth and its cloud cover ever taken from space.

The satellite, otherwise known as Explorer VI, was launched Aug. 7. The photograph covers a broad area of the central Pacific. It was made from signals received by a tracking station Aug. 14 at South Point, Hawaii. At the time the satellite was about 17,000 miles above the surface of the earth over Mexico.

Thus the area photographed was more than 20,000 miles from the satellite.

Existence of the photograph was disclosed at a news conference at which scientists also reported that the so-called radiation belts above the earth are in reality one large zone with varying peaks of intensity.

The photograph was taken by a two pound camera aboard the satellite. While the earth was in the camera's field of view the positions of the earth, sun and satellite permitted only a crescent of the sunlit part of the earth to be seen.

Demos Hold Big Opening On Saturday

Democrats from over the western part of the state were in Murray on Saturday to attend the opening of the party's campaign in the auditorium of Murray State College.

The principal address was made by Bert T. Combs, Democratic nominee for governor and Wilson W. Wyatt, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor.

Mr. Combs called for Democratic unity and played his Republican opponent. He linked Mr. Robison, Republican nominee for governor with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, calling him a "servile follower of Ezra Tatt Benson."

Combs blamed Benson for a philosophy which he claimed "has done more damage to Kentucky farmers than has the root rot, the chinch bug and the Mexican bean beetle combined."

After the tanker went down with its cargo of oil, Paul Brady and Lloyd Deir of Suffolk, Va., and Beiden Leir of Holland, Va., boarded it with shotguns, warned off other would-be salvagers, and claimed the vessel's 400-foot stern section as theirs under international law.

Another waterman had tried to salvage the vessel's low section, but lost his life in the process. The trio saved five men to help raise it, promised them a $10,000 bonus if the vessel came in, then spent months trying to raise the "Queen." They finally got it afloat last Monday and had it under tow Tuesday.

But as the tugboat Mary L. McAllister, a Coast Guard cutter escort, and the wounded "Queen" began the strange voyage to Norfolk, Hurricane Grace turned the journey into a race against time.

Salvage Risk Proves Successful

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — Eight men who risked their lives to salvage a stricken oil tanker, the experts said couldn't be saved, prepared today to negotiate the sale of the prize for a sum of $10 to $20 million dollars.

The ship, the once proud 21,000-ton "African Queen," abandoned by its owners after it hit a shoal and split in two off Ocean City, Md., last December was towed into Norfolk Harbor early Sunday after a "painfully slow 110-mile journey that lasted almost 94 hours."

The adventuresome amateurs, who boarded the vessel after others had tried and failed to raise it, unfurled an American flag as their vessel entered Norfolk Harbor.

Hundreds of persons lined the shore and honked car horns as the crippled vessel, speckled with oil and fish, loomed into sight. Thus ended a stranger than fiction episode which had claimed one man's life.

After the tanker went down with its cargo of oil, Paul Brady and Lloyd Deir of Suffolk, Va., and Beiden Leir of Holland, Va., boarded it with shotguns, warned off other would-be salvagers, and claimed the vessel's 400-foot stern section as theirs under international law.

Khrushchev Now A Capitalist

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Nikita Khrushchev today was a stockholder in an American corporation.

That, said a spokesman for four men who presented the stock, makes the Soviet premier a capitalist.

Forrest T. Jones, an insurance man, said purpose of the gift was neither flippant nor argumentative.

"We decided the best way to show him how capitalism really works, what it really is, was to let him see, as a stockholder, how an American corporation works," he said.

The four decided to transfer to Khrushchev 25 shares of stock owned by Jones in the American Safety Razor Co. The stock is worth $300, or about 1,200 rubles, Jones said.

The stock certificate was mailed to Khrushchev at Camp David, Md., Thursday. Thus far Jones and his friends have received no response.

Large Crowd Attends First PTA Meeting At New Concord

Approximately 125 parents and teachers of New Concord High School enjoyed a chili supper in the school lunch room last week.

Following the supper the parents visited in the attractive classrooms, viewed the displayed work of the students and discussed the progress of the children with the teachers.

After visiting the rooms, the PTA meeting was begun with Mrs. Hardman Miller, the new president presiding. The devotion was given by Mrs. Cleo Grogan and a prayer given by the principal E. T. Curd.

Mrs. Miller introduced the new officers and announced the committees for the current year. Mrs. Alonzo Forrest is the secretary and Mrs. Wednell Allbritten is the treasurer. Both made reports.

Plans were made for the PTA to be responsible for the repair of the sidewalks used by the lower grades to reach the buses and the playground. Members also voted to furnish paper towels for the restrooms and also give some financial help to the Beta Club.

A special planning committee will meet tonight to make plans for an informal, homecoming supper for all former students of New Concord for Saturday November 28. Definite plans will be announced later.

Seventy four parents joined the PTA at this first meeting.

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said today that the East-West impasse over Berlin was broken during his weekend talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Eisenhower said that aside from the language of the official communique issued Sunday at Gettysburg, he and Khrushchev had agreed that new negotiations on the fate of West Berlin should not be prolonged indefinitely. But at the same time, he said, they agreed there could be no fixed time limit on these reopened discussions.

Eisenhower told a crowded press conference that as far as he was concerned no party to the Berlin situation was now under any sort of threat of duress. He said that Khrushchev made an emphatic point that had never intended a threat against the West German metropolis.

Eisenhower also told reporters that as far as he was concerned, he faces this fall with a number of his previous objections to a summit meeting had been removed by his Camp David talks with the Russian leader.

He said, however, that the timing of a summit was a matter to be negotiated with the Western Allies.

Russia last November proposed ending the four-power occupation of Berlin in an effort to get Allied forces out of the German city.

Had Set Deadline
Russia had set last May 27 as a deadline for West to get out of Berlin. But this was extended indefinitely as the Big Four foreign ministers sought a new Berlin solution.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev said in their joint communique Sunday that they had agreed that the formal negotiations should be reopened "with a view to achieving a solution which would be in accordance with the interests of all concerned and in the interest of the maintenance of peace."

Today the President was asked whether, in the new negotiations on Berlin, any solution acceptable to the United States must guarantee the Allied occupation rights and the freedom of the West Berliners.

The President, suffering from a cold which he said started shortly after his recent trip to Europe, said he could not guarantee anything because he did not know what sort of solution from the forthcoming negotiations might be acceptable.

Eisenhower told reporters he found Khrushchev a dynamic and arresting personality, a man who resorted to great flights of manner and disposition ranging from a negative, difficult attitude to easy, genial discussion.

He summed up his impression of the Soviet Premier with two words: Extraordinary personality. As to whether the cold war ice is melting, the President said the answer would have to be relative. But he thought it was melting, if measured by Khrushchev's displeasure that continued heavy military spending and the awareness of the Russian, as well as the American people, that East-West differences must be solved reasonably and without war.

A Beginning
Eisenhower said the Camp David meeting in essence, should be regarded as a beginning. He said the reason he postponed his planned trip to Russia from this fall until next spring was largely due to the crowded schedule he faces this fall with a number of foreign visitors.

In this connection, he pointed out, too, that Khrushchev also has a busy schedule, involving a trip to Red China this week. Against this background, Khrushchev entered into what the President smiling referred to as a discussion with the Eisenhower grandchildren at the President's Gettysburg farm Saturday and the decision was finally made to postpone Eisenhower's visit to Russia until spring.

The path was cleared for a "probable" summit meeting early in 1960 on the Berlin problem. A final verdict hinges on the progress of lower-level negotiations, agreement among the West Allies and the "elimination of the threat."

Eisenhower apparently stuck by his refusal to negotiate under threat of the Soviet demand, first raised last November, that the Allies quit West Berlin.

The President and the Premier also renounced the use of force to settle international questions and pledged themselves to make every effort to achieve world disarmament.

In addition, they made "substantial progress" toward early agreements to increase cultural exchanges between the two countries and decided to reopen negotiations on Russia's $3 billion dollar lend-lease debt left over from World War II.

The Pan-American Coffee Bureau expects that Americans will be consuming 41 million bags of green coffee a year by 1980, twice as much as they do now.

TVA Lakes Yield 14 Million Pounds Of Fish Annually

From 14 to 15 million pounds of fish are taken from TVA lakes each year, according to the 1959 annual report of TVA's Fish and Game Branch which was released today. The report states that the total catch is estimated at 10 million pounds and fishermen spend about $15 million a year. The commercial harvest runs 4 to 5 million pounds a year and is valued at a million dollars.

The report states that from 6,000 to 11,000 tons of mussel shells, valued at half a million dollars, are harvested from the Tennessee River annually, and that hunters in the Valley take upwards of 40,000 waterfowl and 1,000 deer each year.

Discussing the future of fishing in TVA lakes, the report states that the most important problem facing the biologists is to determine for each of the lakes what kind of fish population will provide the best sustained fishing for both sport and commercial fishermen and how such a population can be achieved and maintained.

"Fisheries biologists have solved these questions for specific types of waters, but large fluctuating

Roger Craig And Bob Buhl Score Wins To Place Dodgers And Braves In Tie; Jones Win Is In Vain

Playoff Will Decide Winner Of The National League Flag

By FRED DOWN
United Press International Roger Craig and Bob Buhl, who a year ago wondered if they had any future at all in baseball, scored the most important victories of their careers in the closing hours of the National League pennant race.

But, even so, they were forced to share the headlines with 34-year old Sam Jones, who pitched one of the greatest "Money" games of all time in vain.
Craig, a 28-year old right-hander from Durham, N. C., pitched a six-hitter to beat the Chicago Cubs, 7-1, and insure the Los Angeles Dodgers a tie for the flag, while Buhl, bushy-browed fire-baller from Saginaw, Mich.,
received credit two hours later for the Milwaukee Braves' 5-2 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Craig Won 11th
Craig, who had made only two hits in 31 previous at-bats, singled home the first two Los Angeles runs in the second inning and it was a walkaway thereafter as Charlie Neal and John Roseboro iced the cake with two-run home-runs. Craig, who didn't join the Dodgers until June, won his 11th game while striking out two batters and walking two.
Buhl, aided by Don McMahon
in the eighth and ninth innings
after departing for a pinch-hitter, gained credit for his 15th victory.
He battled Jim Owens on a 1-1 basis until the seventh inning when the Braves shoved across three runs on two singles, a walk, an error, a balk and an infield out. McMahon, making his 38th appearance of the year, yielded three hits but was touched for only a ninth-inning run.

Jones answered his critics once and for all Saturday night with his seven-inning no-hit, 4-0 victory over the Cardinals. It was all in vain for hard-luck Sam — who finished with a 21-15 record — because his no-hitter won't be counted officially and his victory was wasted when the Giants blew their Sunday doubleheader to the Cardinals, 2-1, and 14-8.

Shaw Won 18th
Bob Shaw, 24-year old right-hander, tuned up for a likely World Series starting assignment by winning his 18th game as the American League champion White Sox beat the Detroit Tigers, 6-4.
Harmon Killebrew tied Rocky Colavito for the AL home run crown by hitting his 42nd although the Washington Senators lost to the Boston Red Sox, 6-2.
The Baltimore Orioles beat the New York Yankees, 3-1, and the Kansas City Athletics shaded the Cleveland Indians, 6-5, in other AL games. The Cincinnati Reds beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-7, in the other NL game.

Halfback Still Strong Spot In Murray State Lineup

Despite losing six halfbacks from last year's squad, the Murray State College football team is still richer in number at this position than at any other.
Gone are Ronnie Babb, Bill
Schade, Dick Vinick, George Karnavas, Joe Cartwright, and Walter Stos. Back are Corky Carman, Bob Toom, Buddy Searcy, Richard Yarbro, Dick Stout, and Ken McNeely. Also working at the position are eight freshmen,
Dave Aldridge, Eddie Beaver,
Joe Bob Brewer, Bud Crafton,
Bill Moeley, and Jerry and Terry Shelton.

The biggest problems will be lack of speed and experience.
Heading the list of halfbacks is Co-Captain Carman, a 185 pound junior from Jackson, Tenn.
Carman, a converted fullback,
has been described by Coach Jim Cullivan as "our greatest running threat". He is not particularly fast or evasive, but he runs hard with great determination. He is a good squad leader and has shown tremendous improvement on defense, where he can play at halfback or linebacker.

Probably starting at the other halfback spot will be Toom, a 165 pound senior from Fulton, Tenn., who scored Murray State first three touchdowns his freshman season, has fair size, fair speed, fair to good running ability, works hard, and hits hard on defense.

Searcy, a first-line reserve at the position, is a 155 pound sophomore from Tallahassee, Fla. He is the fastest man on the squad, and according to Cullivan, may become a real menace to opponents despite his size.

Yarbro, a reserve fullback for the last two seasons has also been shifted to half. Rich, a 180 pound junior from Covington, Tenn., has lost 15 pounds in getting ready for the position and has done a lot of work on his speed.

Cullivan says that he is a hard worker, not likely to score from out, but reliable for short yardage, when the going gets tough.

Stout, a veteran at half, will see much action there as well as at end. Cullivan said that Stout could play regularly at halfback if he weren't so adaptable to other positions and if end were not such a problem on this year's team. "Where ever he plays he will be one of the most valuable men on the team," he said.

McNeely, a 180 pound junior from Berrien Springs, Mich.,

schipped on ankle in an early practice session and will be out of action indefinitely.

The freshmen to show the most promise thus far are the Shelton twins from Aberdeen, Miss., and Moeley from Paris, Tenn.

HUNGRY STUDENTS
NORMAN, Okla. — (UP) — A herd of 600 cattle a year is slaughtered to feed the 3,000 students who live in dormitories at the University of Oklahoma. Also consumed during a year are more than 12,000 turkeys, chickens and capons, hundreds of pigs, enough fresh fish to stock a good-sized lake and thousands of cans of sausage and tuna.

GONG GONE
BUFFALO, N. Y. — (UP) — Can-

A Vital Message To All Kentuckians:

Just 3 days left TO APPLY FOR NON - GROUP (Individual or Family)

for HOSPITAL CARE

for SURGICAL BENEFITS

Before Enrollment Regulations Change

WHAT ARE THE CHANGES IN REGULATIONS?

After September 30, 1959, Non-Group (Individual or Family)
Enrollment in Kentucky Blue Cross - Blue Shield will be available ONLY to those persons living in Kentucky who are 64 years of age or under and in good health, and are SELF-EM-PLOYED, UNEMPLOYED, OR WORK WHERE THERE ARE LESS THAN 10 EMPLOYEES.

WHY ARE THESE CHANGES BEING MADE?

There is a growing tendency among people who are reaching retirement-age and who have coverage through the company where they work, (other than Blue Cross-Blue Shield):

1. that cannot be continued;
2. or whose benefits are reduced because of age;
3. or whose protection is cancelled because a chronic or incurable condition develops to apply for Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield . . . cannot continue to accept . . . under their regular benefit plans . . . those people who are not allowed to continue their hospital-surgical coverage by an Insurance Company to whom they have been paying premiums for protection during their "healthy years," but which cancels them when they retire or reach 65 — or reduces benefits at age 65; or cancels when a chronic or incurable condition develops. This is the time protection is most needed.

Eligible citizens of Kentucky whose present protection does not allow continued coverage regardless of age or health should apply now to Blue Cross-Blue Shield.
Blue Cross-Blue Shield have accepted a broad responsibility to the hospitals and to the people of the community. When all insurance companies offering hospital-surgical protection accept equal responsibility, (see lower left hand corner of this message) for Continued Coverage of Members, many problems will be solved.

These changes in regulations do not affect those Kentuckians who already are Blue Cross-Blue Shield Members, nor those persons who are accepted for membership before Oct. 1, 1959.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS OPPORTUNITY TO APPLY NOW

— It Might Be Your Last Chance!

HERE ARE A FEW OF THE UNIQUE ADVANTAGES

KILLED BY ACCIDENT
NEW YORK (AP) — A 22-year-old woman sitting on her doorstep was killed Monday by a policeman's bullet fired at a fleeing car thief's suspect.

The death was ruled accidental. Police said Miss Delight Crawford was killed by Patrolman James O'Connell as he chased down Irving Moore, 30. O'Connell had seen Moore tinkering with the ignition of a truck, apparently in an attempt to steal it. O'Connell captured Moore after a scuffle, but was unaware of Miss Crawford's death until after he returned to the police station.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 59-year-old man who had one leg amputated after an auto accident apparently committed suicide recently when told he faced the loss of his other leg.

Pittsburgh Has Been Free Of Teen-Age Gang Violence

EDITOR'S NOTE: The city of Pittsburgh has been remarkably free of teen-ages gang violence which is posing a big problem in other large urban centers. Much of the credit for Pittsburgh's success in coping with juvenile delinquency is given the late Judge Gustav L. Schramm, who died Sept. 5. The day before he died, Judge Schramm was interviewed on the subject by United Press International.

By IRV DRASININ
United Press International
PITTSBURGH (AP) — The tremors of teen-age violence reverberating in New York and other large cities are surprisingly quiet in Pittsburgh's urban - industrial complex.

Faced with the same pressure-building factors common to large urban centers—overcrowded areas, mixture of racial and ethnic groups, relative poverty—Pittsburgh authorities have been able to clamp a tight lid on the cauldron of juvenile crime which often has boiled over elsewhere.

Much of the credit for this city's success in this field is given the late Judge Gustav L. Schramm, who for 27 years was Pennsylvania's first and only juvenile court judge.

Schramm died unexpectedly at the age of 69 on Sept. 5. The day before he died, he told this reporter during an interview in his juvenile court chambers:

Treats Child Personally
"The philosophy here is simple. We treat every child as if he were a parent. We handle each case personally and individually.

"This is a place of equity, not a criminal court for children."

Schramm often felt the sting of criticism for his methods, but he let progress serve as his yardstick.

From the time he took over the juvenile bench in 1933, Schramm talked personally with every youngster brought before his court. His goal was always to gain the youngster's trust.

"To me," he said, "these private talks are the heart of my work. A boy's future is at stake and these delicate moments can enhance or harm the relationship which is established and carried on between the child and the community."

Results Felt Daily
Schramm's formula rarely had to be used on the same youngster twice. Of the nearly 4,700 cases brought before his court last year, four out of five did not return.

Police Inspector James McKnight, a member of the Pittsburgh force for 30 years and in charge of juveniles half that time, said the results of Schramm's work are felt daily.

"We haven't had a gang form in Pittsburgh in more than five years," McKnight said. "Sure we've had problems with boys, but no youth gangs in the New York or Philadelphia sense."

McKnight said that only three juvenile gangs had shown up on Pittsburgh streets in the past 15 years, and there hasn't been a serious upsurge of racial conflict in the past 5 years.

Pittsburgh police have never had to assign extra details to any area of the city because of juvenile violence, nor have they ever had to enforce a curfew law, he said.

This year, he added, the city's juvenile delinquency rate has shown a decline as compared with the average for the past 10 years.

In his interview with this reporter, Schramm recalled an experience early in his career which impressed him with the meaning and responsibility of his work.

Guard Shakes Hand
"Once," he related, "I went to the penitentiary to give a speech to the prisoners. As I walked in, a guard rushed up to me and shook my hand."

"Judge," he said, "my boy is doing all right now."

Reflecting on the incident, Schramm said:

"The meaning of all this comes home to me when I think that this father might have had to meet his own son at the gate of the prison if the community hadn't helped that boy in time."

At Schramm's funeral services two teen-ages youths showed up, walked to the coffin, stood there a while and started to leave.

They were stopped by Charles Bowser, a member of the juvenile court staff. He asked them if they were friends of the judge.

"Yes," one boy answered. "He committed us to Thornhill Training School."

They had traveled from their homes, more than 20 miles away, to pay their last respects to a friend.

PUBLIC HEALTH IMPORTANCE

DISEASE

Most household insects travel between likely sources of human disease germs (such as privy, sewers, and garbage) and food destined for human consumption.

They carry disease germs on their feet, body hairs, mouthparts and in the contents of their intestinal tracts. Human diseases transmitted mechanically by household insects include TYPHOID, BACILLARY DYSENTERY, AMEBIC DYSENTERY, DIARRHEAS, CHOLERA, RAT TAPEWORM, DEWARF TAPEWORM and TULAREMIA.

BIOLOGICAL TRANSMISSION OF DISEASE

In some cases the insect plays an essential part in the life cycle of the parasite and biological transmission occurs. Human disease transmitted biologically by household insects include PLAGUE, MURINE TYPHUS, RICKETTSIALPOX, RELAPSING FEVER, CHAGAS DISEASE and DOG TAPEWORM.

COCKROACHES

Cockroaches are ancient creatures which were probably the most abundant of all insects seventy or eighty million years ago. They have adapted themselves to the abode of man and are potential vectors of disease. They are becoming a more difficult problem in our homes and restaurants. Cockroaches have been reported nibbling on the eyelashes, finger nails and toenails of sleeping children. They impart an unsavory odor and taste into food they infest.

They carry the organisms causing enteric diseases from sewers and garbage cans to the food of man. The American cockroach (waterbug) is especially dangerous. Many disease organisms remain viable when passed through their digestive tracts and others may be transported on their mouthparts, legs and bodies. Cholera and salmonella appear to be the most common disease transmitted in this way. Cockroaches are thought to be possible vectors of leprosy and have been considered vectors of poliomyelitis.

CARELESSNESS COSTS LIVES — Skin divers (left) help pull auto out of 20 feet of water in Chicago after the Rev. Earl Gipsen, 26, who was sleeping in the car, was drowned. Reverend Gipsen and his companion, Orey Bishop, 46, had been fishing, and Bishop said he thought the car was in reverse when he accelerated to drive away. Fishermen rescued Bishop. And in New York, John Kollner, 17, Audubon, N. J., has died (right) of electrocution atop a Pennsylvania railroad train, where he hitched a ride and accidentally touched an overhead wire. A companion slid off unscathed.
